

Advising Guide for English Courses

Course Number	Who Should Take It?	What is It?	Benefits
Center for Academic Transitions*	Recommended for students with reading scores less than 55 and Sentence Skills scores less than 55	A three-week tutoring session with instructional software to refresh their reading and writing skills	A chance to take the Accuplacer exam twice (before and after the workshop) and accelerate their progress through required courses
ENG* 095 6 contact hours  ENG* 073 3 contact hours	RC: less than 68 Or SS: Less than 68 Or SAT: less than 350 Or Writeplacer: 0-2	Developmental Writing and Reading with embedded support	Includes writing lab designed to give students individualized and self-paced instruction
ENG* 097 3 contact hours And ENG* 073 3 contact hours	RC: 69-82 And SS: 69 and above Or Writeplacer: 3 Or SAT 351-400	Developmental Writing and Reading	Hone writing and reading skills in preparation for ENG 101
ENG* 101P 3 credits 3 contact hours	RC: 83 or above And SS: 80-87 Or Writeplacer: 4 Or SAT: 401-450	An ENG* 101 for students at the highest end of developmental writing. This is a 3 credit course with a three contact hour writing lab	An ability to enroll in a credit English course with additional support, writing lab designed to give students individualized and self-paced instruction
ENG* 101 3 credits	RC: 83 or above And SS: 88 or above Or Writeplacer: 5 Or SAT 450 or above Or C-in ENG* 043 or ENG* 095	Traditional ENG* 101, College Composition	Placement in College English

*The Center for Academic Transitions is also available to students who have placed into ENG 095/073 or ENG 043/073 and are willing to work towards a higher placement.

Key – RC: Reading Comprehension      SS: Sentence Skills